

CRASH TO COURT: COURTROOM SUCCESS

Without formal training focusing on the procedures of the trial, the rules of the courtroom, the expectations of the jury, etc. many crash reconstruction officers have to rely in their instinct to be the best witness they can. Legal Sciences' COURTROOM SUCCESS training gives officers a foundation and structure to support their individual styles, and goes far beyond the "how to dress" and "where to look" rules. This training includes hands-on activities including a mock trial that exposes officers to a wide range of testifying styles, the equivalence of many years of testifying.

"I wish I had this training before I testified for the first time. I've been on the stand many times since then, but I never heard about the things we talked about in this training."

Lt. David Boyt, Georgia State Patrol, veteran of more than 15 years

"I testified in a civil case the day after our class in Salem, and I found that I was much more comfortable and confident while being cross-examined. Your class was exceptional, and I would really like others in my unit to attend in the future."

Sgt. Dan Crevier, North Andover P.D.
